Every MCAL Team's Holiday Wish List

1 - Lights! It still doesn't feel right. We are playing in winter, yet only one of our schools has access to lights. In all the surrounding areas, night games, under the lights, are being played. It just has a different feel, a different energy. Sure it is cold, but that is trumped by the thrill of representing your school on the illuminated pitch, like the pros.

2 - Winter Gear. We may not play under the lights, but that doesn't mean it isn't cold. Despite the cold, and likely soon to be wet weather, most team's do not have winter apparel to provide for their girls. What you see then is the potpourri of sweatshirts, pajama bottoms, and club team jackets to keep themselves warm. Some winter gear goes a long way, not only because it keeps the girls warm, but also because it has them looking like a team.

3 - A berth in the NCS. With four divisions now, the door is open for more MCAL teams to earn a spot in the postseason tournaments. There are still four ways to qualify: have a .500 record overall, have a .500 record in your league, have a .500 record in your classification, or win your league's automatic berth, which for MCAL is the winner of the MCAL Playoff.

D2 - Tamalpais, Redwood, and Novato are all D2 teams now, and will face tough competition once they get to NCS. All three teams are looking good so far, with Tam having the best chance of a high seed with convincing wins vs Las Lomas and Redwood already this year.

D3 - Drake, San Rafael, and Terra Linda will all be hopeful of making the field, while San Marin is likely to still be a year or two away from challenging. After a fruitful non-conference run thus far, Terra Linda is only one D3 draw away from being NCS eligible. Drake and San Rafael have stockpiled non-conference wins which should boost their chances.

D4 - Branson will be in, Justin-Siena will be out, and Marin Catholic is a wildcard right now. The Wildcats will look to their classification record as their easiest path to eligibility.
