The Week, and Years Ahead

It is a big week in the league, with the four teams atop the table currently going head to head on Tuesday, and teams chasing the leaders squaring off with massively important points at stake to keep their MCAL, and perhaps even NCS, hopes alive.

It is a pair of top of the table clashes to open the week, with Tamalpais (3-0-0) hosting Branson (3-0-0). The last time a match between these two teams wasn't a draw, or a one-goal win either way, was back in 2017. In the other battle between title hopefuls, Marin Catholic (3-0-0) host Redwood (2-1-0). Marin Catholic has yet to concede a goal in the league this campaign, and will look to avenge last year's dramatic last minute loss in the corresponding fixture.

Terra Linda will be hosting Archie Williams in a massively important game, not only for the three points in the MCAL table, but also for NCS qualification and seeding purposes. Terra Linda has already clinched qualification, but acceptance, and potential seeding, are certainly still on the line. Archie is still looking to clinch qualification, and after a massive 2-0 win v Campolindo on the weekend, will be full of confidence heading into the match.

San Rafael and Novato are the others to square off on Tuesday, and they too will be looking to capture three vital points in the league, but also the crucially important Division 3 victory for NCS purposes. A win for Novato would keep their slim NCS hopes alive, but a win for San Rafael would bring them to just a D3 win away from being NCS eligible.

New Rankings - This issue is the first that will note each MCAL teams MaxPreps overall NCS ranking. This has been included to set the stage for future seasons, where MaxPreps rankings will be used to determine the NCS brackets, rather than the current system. If passed, in future years, after having a qualifying record, a team's overall MaxPreps ranking will be used to determine who gets in each of the four brackets, and which bracket you are in. The one caveat is that any team can not be moved up or down more than two divisions from their base division. A school's base division will revert to school size, rather than where they currently are in the competitive equity matrix. With four divisions of NCS, up to 64 schools will gain qualification, so cracking the top 64 will be key. After the brackets are set by MaxPreps, the usual criteria will then be used to seed the teams in a division.
